

Dear Teachers,

Thank you so much for bringing attention to dolphins and dolphin captivity. Unbelievably enough, there are currently captive dolphins in the Arizona desert. (We can't believe it, either.)

In this packet, you will find reading pages, art projects, word searches, crosswords, and other exciting activities for your class. Some content is appropriate for K-3 and some is appropriate for 4-6. Some is great for all grade levels! Pick and choose what you feel is most appropriate for your students, and feel free to share with other classrooms.

Encourage your students to learn about dolphins on their own, as well. We suggest assigning an essay for which they research additional facts on-line. (If you have one that stands out, we would love to see it as well as any artwork - we can even feature it on our social media if permission is granted!)

Our hope is that through learning about dolphins, your students will realize their home should be in the ocean.

If you know of any other teachers who would like a packet, let us know and if you need more resources, please feel free to reach out to us at: pleaforthesea@gmail.com

Thank you so much for your support!
